

AN ATHLETIC SECRETARY.

THE NEW ACQUISITION OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Something About D. W. Corbett and His Past Work—A Robust Christian Character.

At an early hour this morning a STAR reporter called on Mr. D. W. Corbett, the new secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Honolulu, and in the course of a few minutes' conversation found that he was not only a pleasant and affable gentleman, but at the same time an enthusiast in football, baseball, and other athletic sports. Judging from the favorable press comments made previous to his departure from Montreal, Mr. Corbett would prove a valuable acquisition to the Crescents, and that club should lose no time in securing his services.

No better record of Mr. Corbett's services, both in Christian and athletic worlds, can be obtained from any source than the following extract from the Montreal Witness of a recent date. It says:

"It is with general regret that Montreal Y. M. C. A. religious workers will learn that Mr. Corbett, the well known assistant secretary of the Montreal Association, has been chosen by the International Committee on Foreign Work to represent them in Honolulu. All agree, however, that the selection is a good one, and excellent results are looked for. Mr. Corbett was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, twenty-seven years ago. He came to Montreal in January, 1884, and was engaged for three years with the Canadian Pacific Railway. He entered the service of the Young Men's Christian Association in the fall of 1887, and two years later he received leave of absence to attend the Association Training School in Springfield, Mass., where he graduated in 1891 with honors. In the summer of 1890 he was four months in the Canadian Northwest acting as the first Provincial Secretary, and organized associations in Calgary, Regina and other points. He returned to the Montreal associations in 1891, prior to the opening of the new building, and since then has had charge of the junior department educational classes, employment and extension work, where his success has been of a marked character. His work has brought him to the front in junior work, not only in the city, but throughout the provinces and even beyond, where he has read papers on that department at provincial and inter-provincial conventions. His last paper before leaving for his new field of labor will be read before the International Young Men's Christian Association convention, which meets next week in Indianapolis, on the 'Relation of the individual association to boys' work and what the work will be.'

"Mr. Corbett is also well known in Montreal football circles, where he is recognized as a splendid athlete and a Christian gentleman. For the past nine years he has been an active member of the Britannias."

Just previously to his departure from Montreal the junior department of the Y. M. C. A. of that city, over which he had presided for the past six years, presented Mr. Corbett with a costly traveling case equipped with every possible necessity.

On his departure from the Montreal depot hundreds of admiring friends were present to bid him an affectionate Godspeed on his journey across the continent. All of the boys of his classes were present, together with the teachers associated with him and a number of lady friends.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

In the matter of the estate of Charles Apiani Long, the court, Whiting, Judge, approved the accounts of F. A. Schaefer since January 1, 1884. There are five beneficiaries or wards in this estate, and two of them, namely, Giovanni A. Long and Catherine A. Long, have come of age and the guardian discharged from further responsibility as to them. The shares settled to them amount to over $11,000 each in Government bonds and other securities. Besides, there are lands situate in Palolo and Manoa and certain town lots belonging to the estate. Guardian appeared in person.

In the matter of the estate of Joseph Morris, before the same Judge, the account of Rev. Father Leonard Fournelle since January 1, 1885, was approved and the guardian discharged from responsibility in the matter. There are four wards in this matter, and all have come of age. Each ward gets $82.50 in the settlement. Guardian appeared in person.

A meeting of creditors of D. M. Crowley was held in the Clerk's office, and five creditors proved claims amounting to over $400, and L. J. Levy was appointed assignee under a bond of $250.

THE CARRIER SERVICE.

Another Unfortunate Tells His Experience With a Native Boy.

EDITOR STAR: I read with interest last night the article upon "The Carrier Service," by "J.," and your remarks on same. What you say in regard to the carrier and a mango tree, or game of ball, is too true. I have seen a carrier (not yours) calmly sitting on his horse while a small-boy chum read the Monday's report of Saturday's baseball game; and doubtless, after the small boy finished reading, the report was fully discussed, while customers, from Alapai street to Waikiki, were fretting because they did not have the paper to read at breakfast. As to your advice to them, what you say in regard to the carrier, to put up "a small mail box" on the front gate-post, I will say it doesn't work. I live in a part of town where short, smart showmen are frequent, and have had a good strong mail box at my front gate nearly five months, have many times told your carrier that the box was there to put the paper in and not to improve the looks of the front entrance; also told him why I wished the paper put in the box, and still he rides up to the fence, near the box, stops his horse, rolls the paper into as small a wad as he can and lets her go for second base. If it doesn't happen to shower that evening the paper is sure to fall in the fern or flower bed and pretty soon along comes the yard man with the hose and wets down flowers, ferns and the paper. Sometimes the carrier thinks he has not time to fold the paper up to throw it, so lays it on top of the box. If it rains this keeps the top of the box from getting very wet.

LATER.—I beg your pardon for the above growl. I find I am all wrong; for on again looking over your suggestion in regard to mail box, I find you plainly say that it should be attached to the "front gate-post," mine is attached to the fence, one side of box up against gate-post. I will remove it and put it on the gate post, and my troubles will all be paid.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Foster Reserves Some Decisions, as Usual.

The usual monotonous proceedings of the District Court were varied this morning by the large attendance of Chinese interested in the case of the Provisional Government against Ching Muk Kwai, who is charged with being a gross cheat. Whether the Celestial will probably cause Judge Foster some loss of sleep to-night. At any rate he could not decide the matter this morning and was compelled to take the matter under advisement until to-morrow.

Ah Chung, Ah Lee, Ah Poi and Fung Chiu had their hearing on the charge of gambling, and when it was ended an assessment of $10 each, with $15 costs, was quietly entered up against each one by the clerk.

The case of E. B. Thomas was continued till June 23d, while Kaulahau and Kike, charged with gambling, got a respite until the 24th.

Alani, Ah-Hung and Ah Sang will be forced to ventilate certain transactions in opinion to the satisfaction of Judge Foster next Wednesday, and if they do not, trouble is in store for them.

Sam Leloe, a native hack driver, deposited $4 for furious driving, with an extra dollar for the costs, and says he will never be guilty of the same offense again.

Pun Che, charged with the unlawful possession of opium, was found not guilty, and departed on his way rejoicing. This same individual was also charged with the infraction of sect. 13 of the Penal Code, whatever that may be, but his good luck stayed with him and he got off.

Mr. Makelona, who was up for having more opium in his possession than the law allows, was not so lucky. In spite of the lengthy statement he made in his own behalf, under oath, the court decided against him, and it will take $150 fine and $140 costs to settle the matter as Judge Foster has adjudicated it. In this case an appeal has been entered by C. W. Ashford and J. K. Kaula, defendant's attorneys.

The case of E. Werry, charged with keeping a disorderly house in Honolulu within the past three months, was tried, argued and submitted, the presiding justice being unable to arrive at a conclusion until to-morrow.

His Previous Record.

Something About the Man who is Said to Have Despoiled a Crown.

It is stated that the man George Ryan, now in jail for stealing the crown diamonds, has an unsavory record. That about December last he appealed to a well known philanthropic citizen for aid, claiming that he was suffering from a loathsome disease and was without means. The charitable impulses of this gentleman were enlisted in his cause, and he was placed in the hospital. At that time he was going under the name of Neal or Neil. While undergoing treatment at that institution his general bearing and conversation and his accounts of previous escapades led him to be regarded as an all-round crook. To such an extent did the other patients arrive at this conclusion that many of them placed their valuables out of his way, while one in particular gave his gold watch and chain to the safe-keeping of the purveyor of the institution.

About the time of the detronement of the Queen, Ryan, or Neil, or whatever his name may be, left the hospital and joined the Government forces, and as one of such was on duty at the time of the robbery.
